DEEPHAVEN FARMHOUSE

This family knew what was important to them: community, great schools, and the desire to live around the lakes. Deephaven has long been known for its unique, small community, and the homeowners knew that friendly neighbors would be an added bonus to living in the scenic area.

After finding their ideal location, the family began searching for a builder who could make their dream home a reality. They chose Boyer Building to create their beautiful home, confident that the team could accommodate their needs as a young family.

The homeowners' desired design was a contemporary farmhouse with an open-concept floor plan. A spacious living room and large island with food prep areas in the kitchen indulge their love of entertaining. Among the many unique details in the house, Boyer incorporated custom Douglas fir beams that run the length of the great room to warm the white, airy space.

The abundance of windows allows natural light to stream into the main floor and second-floor bedrooms. The cozy screened porch provides even more space for friends and family to gather and enjoy the natural surroundings. 🏡
